COKE DECLINED COAL GAINED IN OUTPUT TONNAGE

Former Only One-fifth of Same 1940-In 1990; Latter Still Under Requirements of Trade.

Production of beshive coke in the United States continues to decline The total output during the week end-ed April 30, estimated from reports TWENTY-SEVEN BABILS AT CLINIC of cars loaded by the rathrounds, was but 72,000 net tons, a decrease of 2,000 tons from the preceding week, says the United States Geological Survey. The depth of the present depression is indicated by the fact that the week's output was hardly one-fifth of that of the corresponding period of 1920.

Cumulative production for the cal endar year to date stands at 2,846,900 not tons, which is little more than 38 per cent of that of 1920.

Production by states, compared with the corresponding week of 1920, was as follows:

Pennsylvania and Ohio 46,000
West Virginia . 6,000 Alabema. Tennessee and Georgia . 7,000
Virginia and Kentucky 8,000
Colorado. Oklahoma and New Mexico . 2,000
Washington and Utah 3,000

Production of soft coal continued to recover during the week ended April 30 though at a diminishing rate. The total output, including lightle and coni coked at the mine, is estimated at 6,921,000 net tons, an increase when compared to the week preceding of 101,000 tons or 1.5 per cent. In spite of the recovery the rate of output is still at the lowest level touched at any time gince April, 1914, except of course for the period of the great

Wilbur, Cooper, star left hinder for the Pittsburgh Pirates, can thank the major leagues for the President

National League.

Wilbur Cooper

secured Cooper his first big league tryout. It was when Cooper was first starting as pitcher with the Marion (O) team-that President Harding became acquainted with him. Mr. Harding was one of the principal backers of the Marion club. He decided that Cooper was destined to become a great pitcher and he urged the Cleverand club to give him a chance. Cooper was given a trial with 5the Indians, and was being dropped when Pittsburgh grabbed him. "He soon developed into a star and imugh of the Pirates pernant hopes are sounded on him. tryout. There are known facts that show this quite plainly. The steel milis as a whole are operating at about 30 per cent of capacity, and while that is a low rate it represents quite a fair tomnage of steel judged by pre-war, standards. The merchant pre-war standards. The morchant blast furnaces of the country, on the other hand, which are the chief buy-ers of coke, are operating at under 20 per cent and probably nearer 16 per cent. At the same time the merchant furnace capacity has not increased as much is the past six years as has the steel works capacity. The steel works are making steel as it is being consumed, but in the case of merchant guived, out in the case of merchant pig iron the consumption is probably well in excess of production. The steel works can regulate their output week by week according to their or ders for steel, while the merchant fur-nate must either operate or not oper-ate. "But I'm going to fight you in order to decide which of us two ceases to adorn the earth; that is, if your diagnosts of the con-tents of the bath is correct. What little gleam of pity I might have pos-sessed for you has been completely extinguished by your present exhibition of nauseating cowardice. Fight, you worm, fight; or Pil throw you in!"

And Lakington fought. The sudden complete turning of the tables had for the moment destroyed his nerve; now, at Drummond's words, he recovered himself. There was no mercy on the soldier's face, and in his lamost heart Lakington knew that the end had come For strong and wiry though he was, he was no match for the other. Releasely he felt blasself being forced toward the deadly limit he had prepared for Drummond, and as the irony of the thing struck him, the sweat broke out on his forehead and he cursed aloud. At last he backed into the edge of the bith and his struggles redoubled. But still there was no mercy on the soldler's face, and he felt himself being forced further and farther over the liquid until he was only held from fulling into it by Drum-

For the orininal's clothes were already burnt through to the skin, and his face—or what was left of it—was a shining copper color. Mad with agony the dashed to the door, and fluing it open. The four men out-side, aghast at the spectroly, received and let him through. And the kindly mercy which Lakington had never shown to any one in his life was given to him at the last. Blindly he proped his way up the stairs, and as Drummond got to the door the end came. Some one must have put in gear the machiners which worked on the fifth step, or perhaps it was automatic. For suddenly a heavy steel weight revolving on an arm vhizzed out from the wall and struck Lakington behind the neck. Without a sound he fell forward, and the weight, unchecked, clauged suddenly home. And thus did the invention of listricts, regulated by population rather than area, and each district appeared to be in charge of one director. A varying number of sub-districts in every main division had each their subdirector and staff, and at some of the names Drummond rubbed his eyes in amazement. Briefly, the duties of every man were outlined; the locality in which his work lay, his exact responsibilities, so that overlapping was reduced to a minimum. In each case the siaff was small, the work largely that of organization. But in each district there appeared ten or a dozen names of men who were cuphendatically described as lecturers; while at the end of the book there appeared nearly fifty vere proudly denoted as first-class lecturers. And if Drummond had rubbed his eyes at some of the names on the organizing staffs, the Brst-class general ecturers deprived him of speech

For a white Drummond smoked in silence, while the two sleepers shifted uneasily in their chairs. It all seemed so simple in spite of the immensity of the scheme. Like most normal Englishmen, politics and inbor disputes had left him cold in the past; but no one who ever glanced at a newspaper could be ignorant of the volcano that had been simmering just beneath the surface for years past.

FREIGHT RATE CUT IS ENTANGLED IN MESS OF RED TAPE

Railroads Insisting Upon "Regularity" in the. Procedure.

"BUCK-PASSING" GAME

In Which the Railroads Leave Onestion to Interstate Commerce Commission, Latter to Railroad Labor Beard; 6 Per Cent Guaranty in Way.

Failure of the railroads to reply to the proposal that coal freight rates be reduced temporarily as a means of atimulating coal buying now and averting a shortage and railroad constant in the coal buying now and averting a shortage and railroad constant in the coal buying th restion in the autumn has added to the disappointments of the adminis-tration in handling the transportation situation, says the Washington cor-respondent of the Cleveland Metal Trade. With the cabinet changing its aggressive action to one of waiting ernmental agoncles to act, "regular-ity" has become the watchword. No words are mined concerning the attitude of many ratiroad executives who have been in conference with the President and members of his dabingt. The executives agree that trates should and must come down, but they point with one accord to the the provisions of the Cummins-Eagh act which require the Interstate Commerce: Commission to prescribe rates that gill return the railroads six per cent net... The executives thus take the post-tion they are ready for a rate reduction, but that it must come "regular-.The buck thus is passed along to the Interstate Commerce Commission which likewise recognizes the desirability of rate reductions, but—and it is a big "but"-not until operating coals have been lowered so the reduc-lower operating cost, which in turn will not the roads their six per cent.

This imperative cut in operating costs, states the commerce commis-sion in passing the buck, now rests wholly with the Rallroad Labor Board at Chicago. In other words, the labor board must make the cut in wages that will lower the railroads operating costs that will enable the inter-state Commerce Commission to make new, lower 'rates that will return the roads gix por cent not that will stimu-late business that will speed that gobstry back to normally. This attitude is disappointing to those whe expected the President to swoop who expected the President to swoop aside the red tape, call into conterence, representatives of labor, the rath ads, the labor board and the commerce commission, and agree repedily upon a program that would thein about rate reductions immediately. The attitude, however, is not attiff an unnatural one, considering the reaction from the Wilson administration. After criticizing the former tration. After criticizing the former Rresident for operating a one-man government, the incoming administra-lion is foath—and not unnaturally so the ride rough-shod over the Cum-mins-Esch act, the Interstate Com-pages Commission and the Italiroad, Lahor, Board. If the labor board dis-

Labor, Board. If the labor board displays haste, then this policy will, not be open to criticism.

Going back even farther than the little passing, the nub and kernel of the whole transportation situation is the six per configuration of the Cummina-Each act. Were this removed, the commerce commission could today set aside its present schoole of races regardless of what the labor board does concerning wages. Whether it would do so, is, of course, another question, as the commission is of the opinion that business as a whole is opinion that business as a whole is not nearly so bad off as the railroads. A bill to eliminate this six per cent on has been introduce Sonator Arthur Capper, Republican of Kansas. The Cummins Investigation of the railroads may point the way for elimination of this nother-

Various farmer organizations have set up headquarters in Washington and are making more noise concerning rates than all other industry and business put together, but the farmthe administration. The administraduties in the Young emergency bill will pacify the farmers somewhat. It is the failure of coal to move that is really plarming the cabinet. Cabinet officials can see some justification for a consumer delaying buying with lawer freights in prospect; and pos-aibly, too, lower prices. But if all de-lay buying, next fall will see alrait-

Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuyeen, Republican, of New Jersey, again has his seasonal coal freight rate bill be fore the Sankte committee on inter-state commerce. On all coal and coke shipments Schator Frelinghuysen would vary the rate according to the the baying when transportation con-ditions are reversed. The bill would take a basis rate on coal and coke, per ton, and then add or subtract the tollowing:

five cents ner ton ove August, five cents per ton over base; September, 15 cents over base; October, November and December, 25 cents over base; January, 10 cents over base; Formary, 10 cents under bess: March, April and May, 25 cent, pinder hase: June, 15 cents under base and July, five cents under base.

The total still held close to the average that has prevailed with more or less regularity ever since the present depression struck

The change in the situation, if it can be called a change is therefore one of details rather than of general effect. Conditions which normally produce an effect on coke moduction remain very much the same With stocks of Iron on hand in exces of consumptive demand there is no need at this time for furnaces increasing production either by speeding up acbroaction ethics by specifing the ac-tive of blowing in idle stacks. This being the agency by which the coke-trade is regulated insofar as clates to furnise coke there are absolitely no factors operating at this time that vould make any material increases in production necessary. There is a slowly rowing demand for foundly coke but it has not assumed such proportions that it cannot be easily tak-en care of by slight increuses in production at comparatively few plants.

The net increase of 3810 tons in production last week to a total of 50.520 tons resulted flom two independent furnace operations having at tained full production without gain in the number of active overs, and the greater activity at a merchant operation which had added to the number of its producing ovens

The H C Frick Coke company resumed banking and blowing out of ovens, suspended seroral weeks ago Bix plants, at which 600 ovens have been in the running were laid by and 33 ovens were blown out at other plants which continue to operate in part These reductions cut the active ovens of this interest down to 540 or but 28 per cent of its equipment of 19,279 ovens the lowest rate of activ-it. Speculation as to what rate of reduction will be made by the forth coming new scale of the H C Frick Coke company continues to be indused but without any substantial basis of fact. The general concensus of opinion is, however that in order to of opinion is, however that in order to keep within the meaning and intent of the term 'equitable adjustment and taking the rate and frequency of the preceding advances and the condi-tion of the coke trade generally into account, the reduction may be in excess of 20 per cent the rate of cut in the wages of laborers at the mann facturing plants of the United States Steel Corporation It is even thought that the new scale will conform in all essentials to the scale adopted by the independent producers on April 1 This was a restolation of the Flick scale of November 1 1917 of a reduc-tion of approximately 30 per cent from the existing scale, effective September

The estimated production of toke during the week ended May 7 was 50 520 tons credited to the two dis-50 520 tons credited to the two districts as follows Connectivitie 26 790 a decrease of 740 tons, Tower Connectivitie 25,730 an increase of 2 550 or a net increase of 1 810 tons as compaicd with the decrease of 2870 tonduring the week of April 30

By interests the production was Furnace, 26 780 a grin of 730 tons merchant 23 740 a gain of 1 080 tons as compared with decreases of 310 and 2480 tons respectively during the preceding week
